Dedication

We heard him referred to as
 "Big Red"
 and wondered as we trembled with forebodings
 if that was a reference to his character also.
 But we discovered his hair was not a reflection of temper but of the fire and warmth burning within.
 And it was those things seen and loved in him that made him really
 "Big"

He didn't stand on a pedestal sermonizing how we ought or ought not to be, but stood beside us living an example which reached our lives.
 We thank you as our leader, our teacher,
 and our brother,
 for your contribution to our growing.
 For this we dedicate the 1974 Laurel Wreath to you, Mr. Daniel Wenger.

Reaching into his storehouse of love,
God chose some seeds.

And looking for a fertile garden,
His eyes settled on LMH.

He planted each seed with thought and watched us mature.

Like a lone blade of grass each of us grew some slowly some in great leaps all singular all beautiful.

Each bearing a drop of dew
— a sign of new life.

As our persons developed more fully we sought one another and strove to work as a body to give, to receive to agree, to disagree and to forgive.

And we grew in spirit and stature and perhaps a little wisdom.

Hand-in-hand, now, in the dawn of our morning we share the dew of our youth.

Faculty

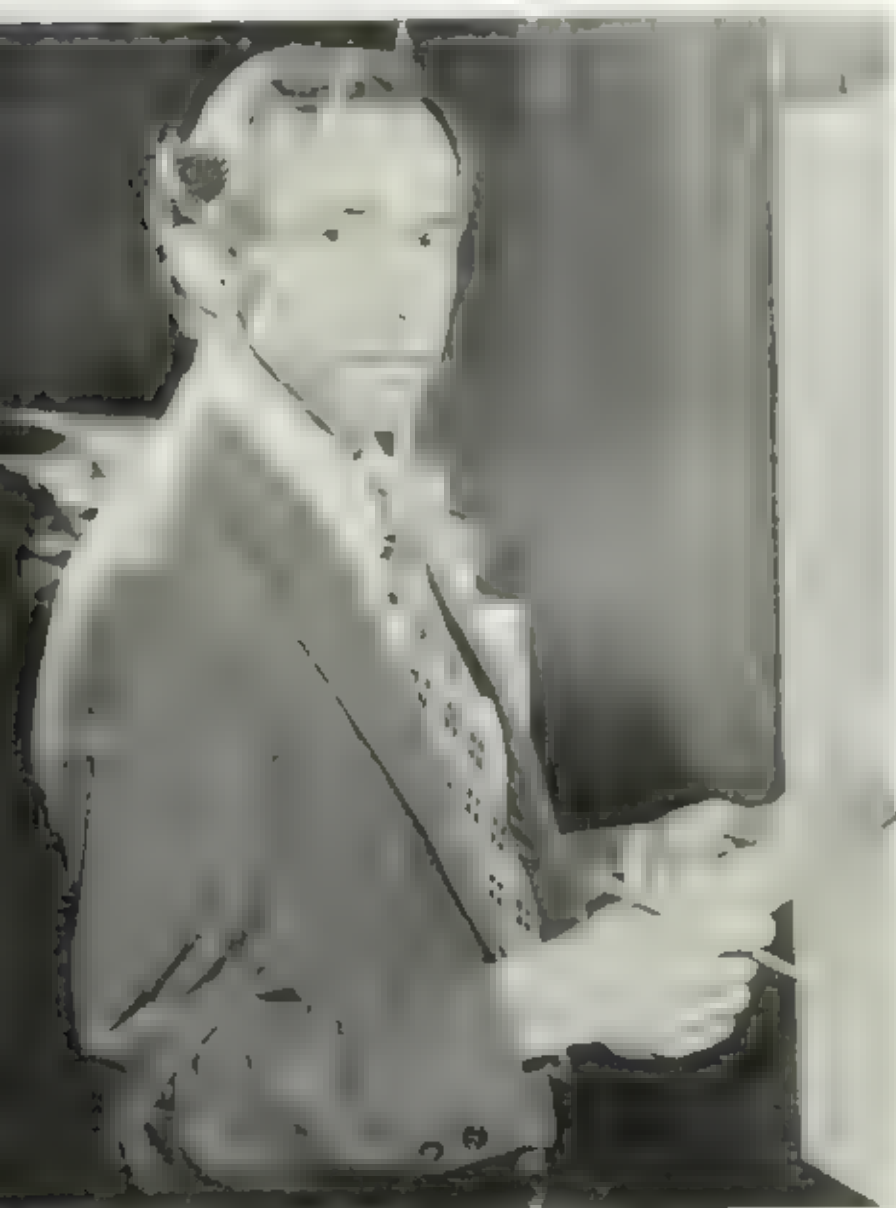

Administration

With all the long, boring titles inflicted upon them, they manage to stay commendably interesting and human. Take our official disciplinarian; the twinkle of mischief in his eyes gives the impression he thoroughly understands the temptations of our weaker moments.

The maddening ability to reason sensibly (a virtue especially characteristic of our principal), dedication to God, and a concern for each student as an individual, we feel describe our administration.

I. Lester Brubaker, Ed. D., Principal;
Isaac Frederick, M. Ed., Guidance Counselor, Charles Longenecker, M. S., Development Coordinator
OPPOSITE PAGE: Gerald Martin, B.S., Business Manager, Robert Meunier, Associate in Development, J. B. Miller, Jr., B.S., Assistant Principal, Everett Newswanger, Director of Public Relations

Help! The administrative machine broke down! Quick call the repairmen. False alarm, false alarm, don't panic. Besides, our administration isn't a machine, it's people.

Rose Breneman, B.S., English

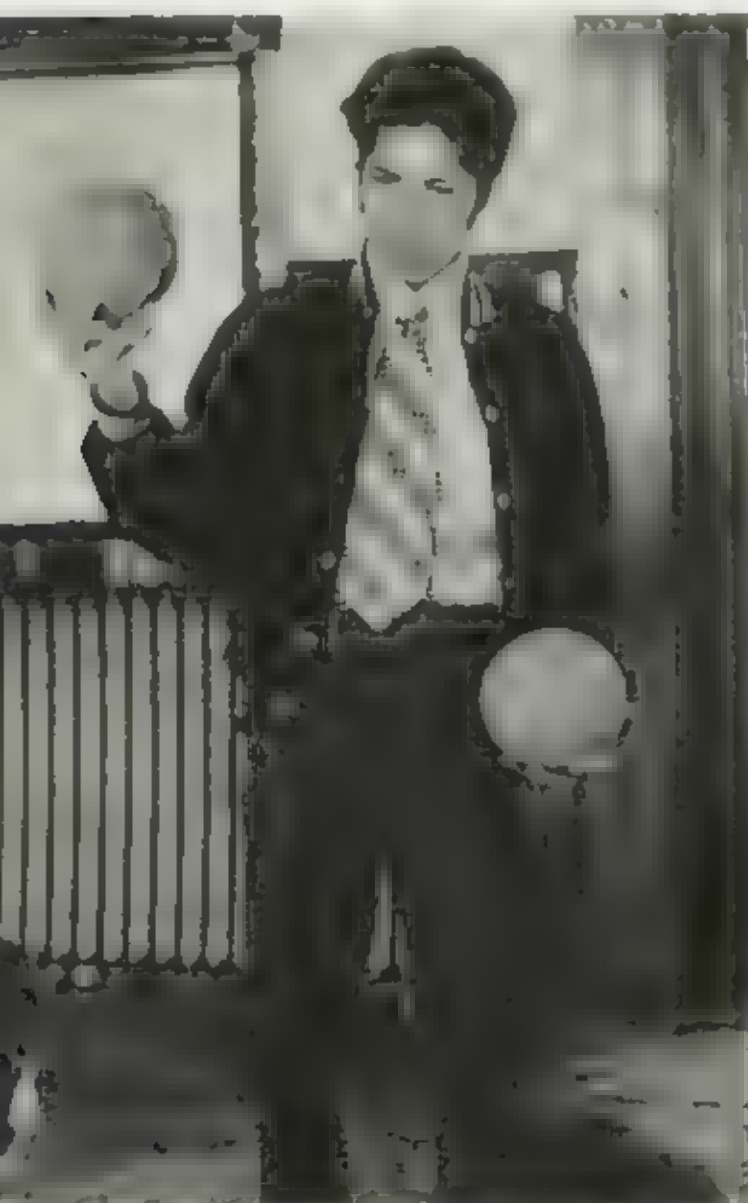

Clarification "and" is not the only conjunction in the English language, furthermore, it is not needed between every sentence of your speech

Daniel Bueno, B.A., Phys. Ed., Health

Phys. Ed. is running the track so many times, one becomes intimately acquainted with the pebble structures of the path

Myron Dierz, M.S., Social Studies, Bible

This week in New York for you Sociology literature students isn't going to be any joy-ride Now in case of a mugging . Say "Jesus loves you" and offer your coat and cloak also

Mary Fredenck, Study Hall Supervisor

You mean Mrs. Fredenck is Mr. Fredenck's wife? I never knew that. Doesn't she get dizzy signing all those passes?

Janet Gehman, M Ed., English

No, I don't think "Rubber Duckey" would be a good theme for your yearbook. It may not be too healthy for public relations.

Merle Good, M Div, English

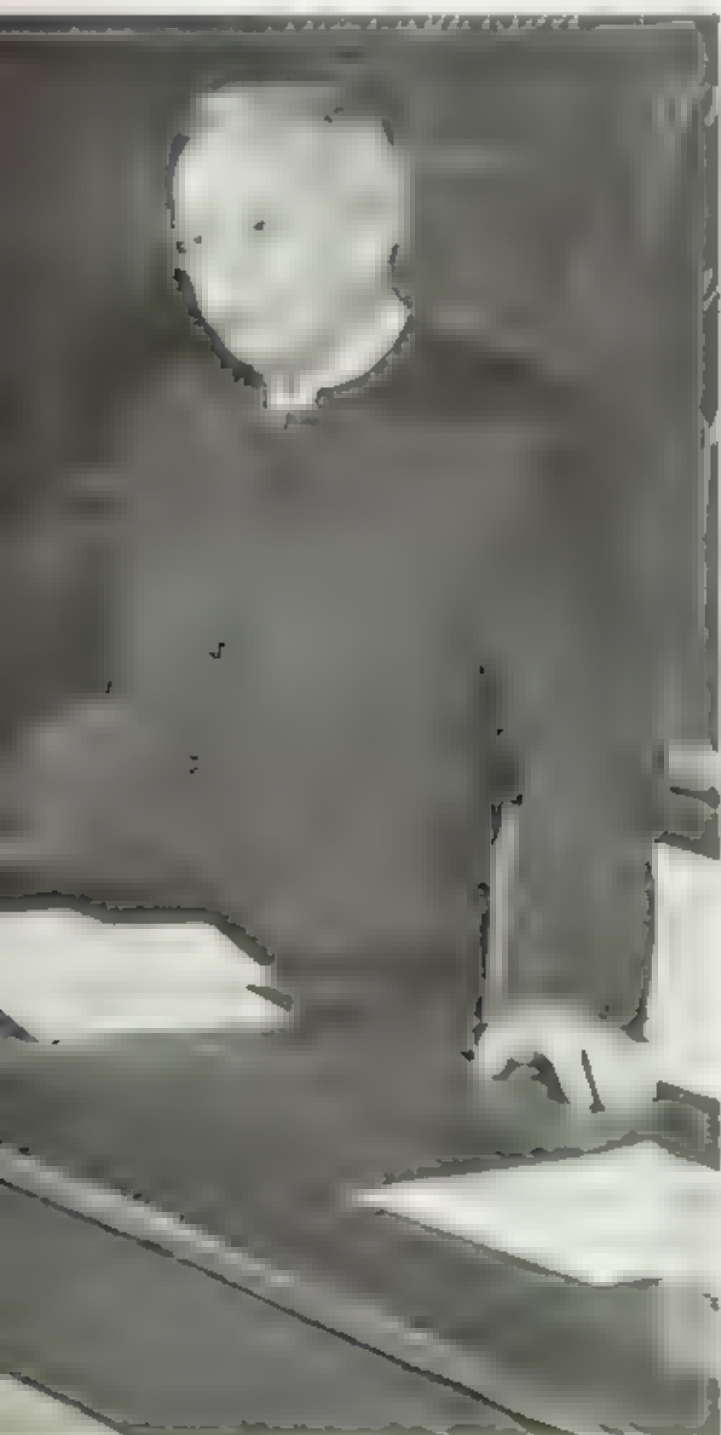

For each row a speech substitute each noun with a verb and each verb with a noun. Present it with excitement and enthusiasm. "An I's VW 10 X 12 behind

Noah Good, M S, French

And then there were those people who had the French or German part of the assignment correct with all the red slashes through the English

Phyllis Good, M A, English

The books haven't come in yet so we'll have to be original. Was the test hard? Really

Melford Haas, B.A., Business Education

Joseph Heller, B.S., Biology
To get rid of intestinal worms eat three frogs and a turtle> I'm afraid that's not quite right

Clair Hollinger, Shop

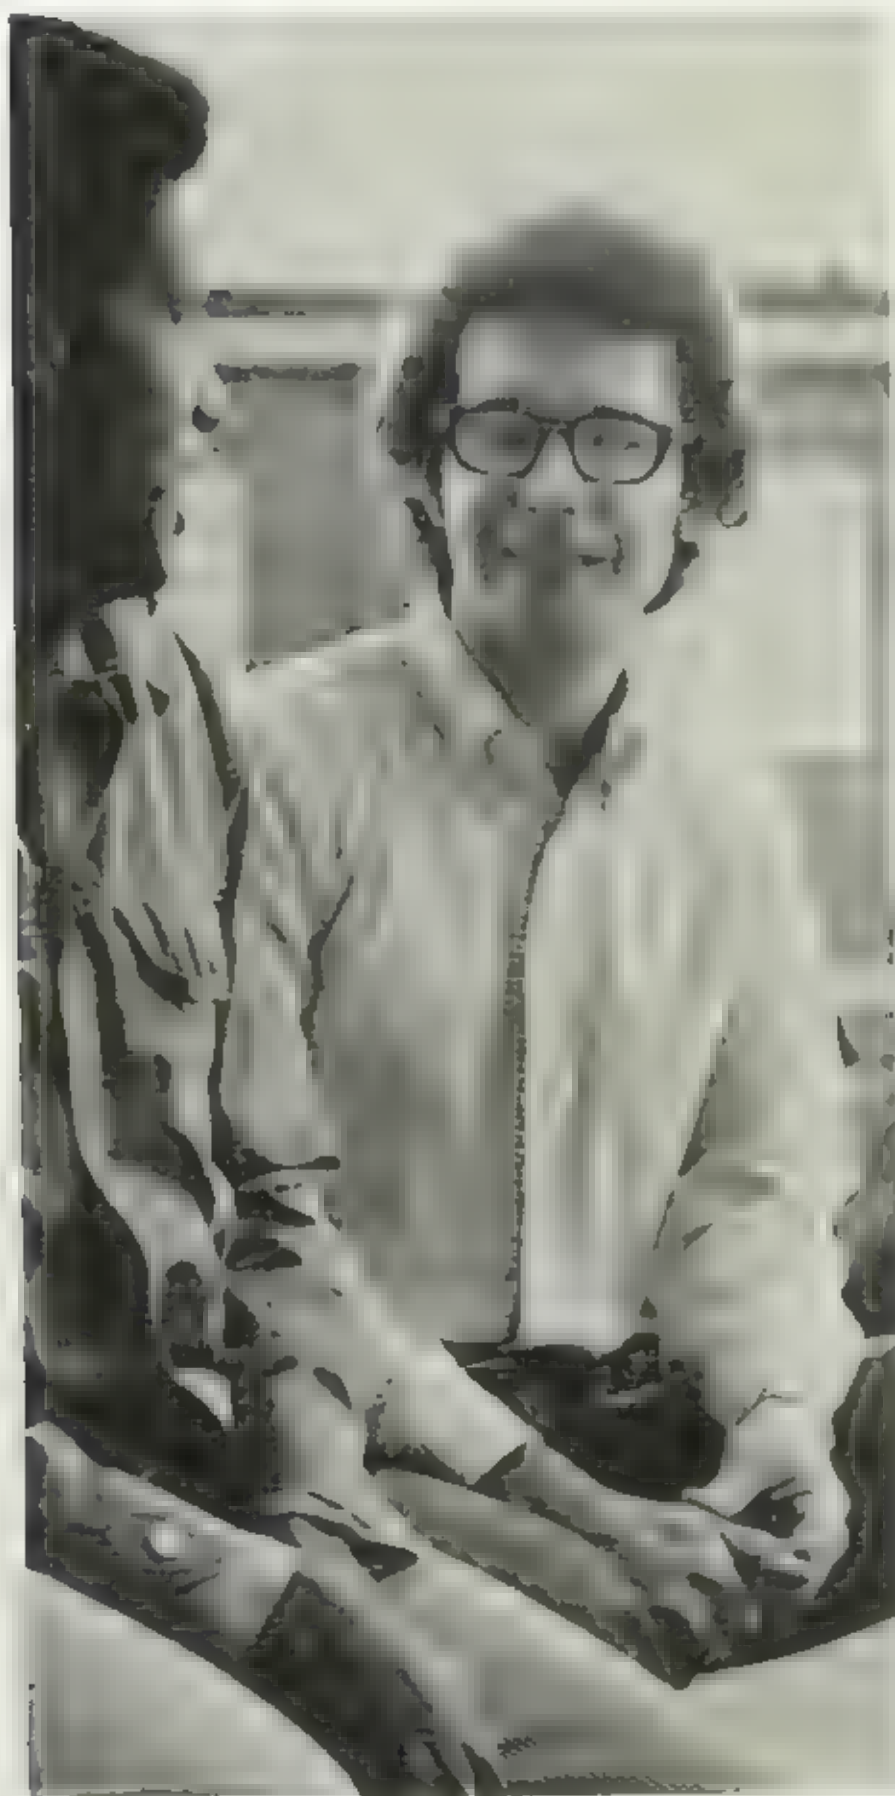

Last year I talked about controversial things like bare heads and women's lib in chapel. They didn't go across too well, so this morning I'll talk about an uncontroversial subject— Watergate.

Ken Hollinger, Dorm Supervisor

OK, who hid my curlers? Please, fellows.

Charlotte Holsoppe, BS, Director of Housing

Vim, Vigor, and Virality

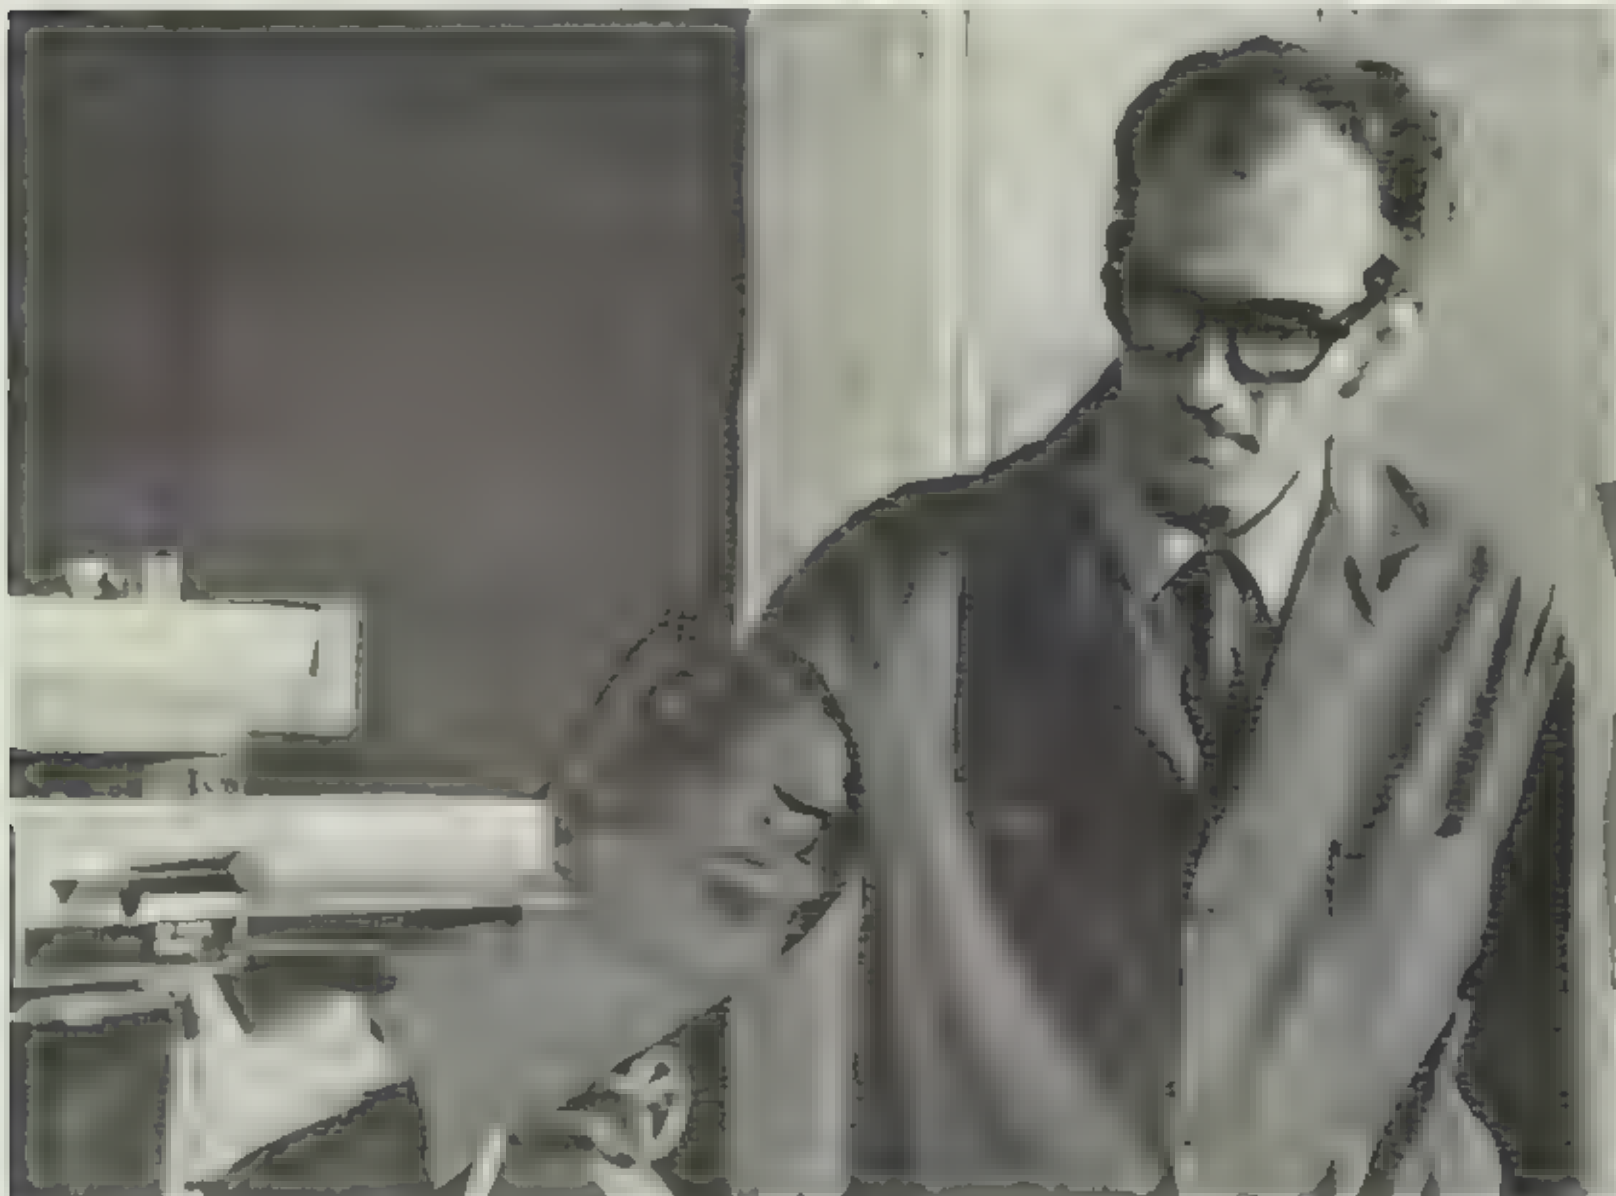

Stanley Kreider, M.S., Mathematics

Because the assumption that the conclusion of the theorem is false when the hypothesis is true implies a contradiction, you know that the theorem must be true . . . ?

Chester Kurtz, B.A., Shop

Keep your fingers away from the bandsaw unless you want to be minus some. Now of course, if your hand offends you, this might be a good place to remedy the situation.

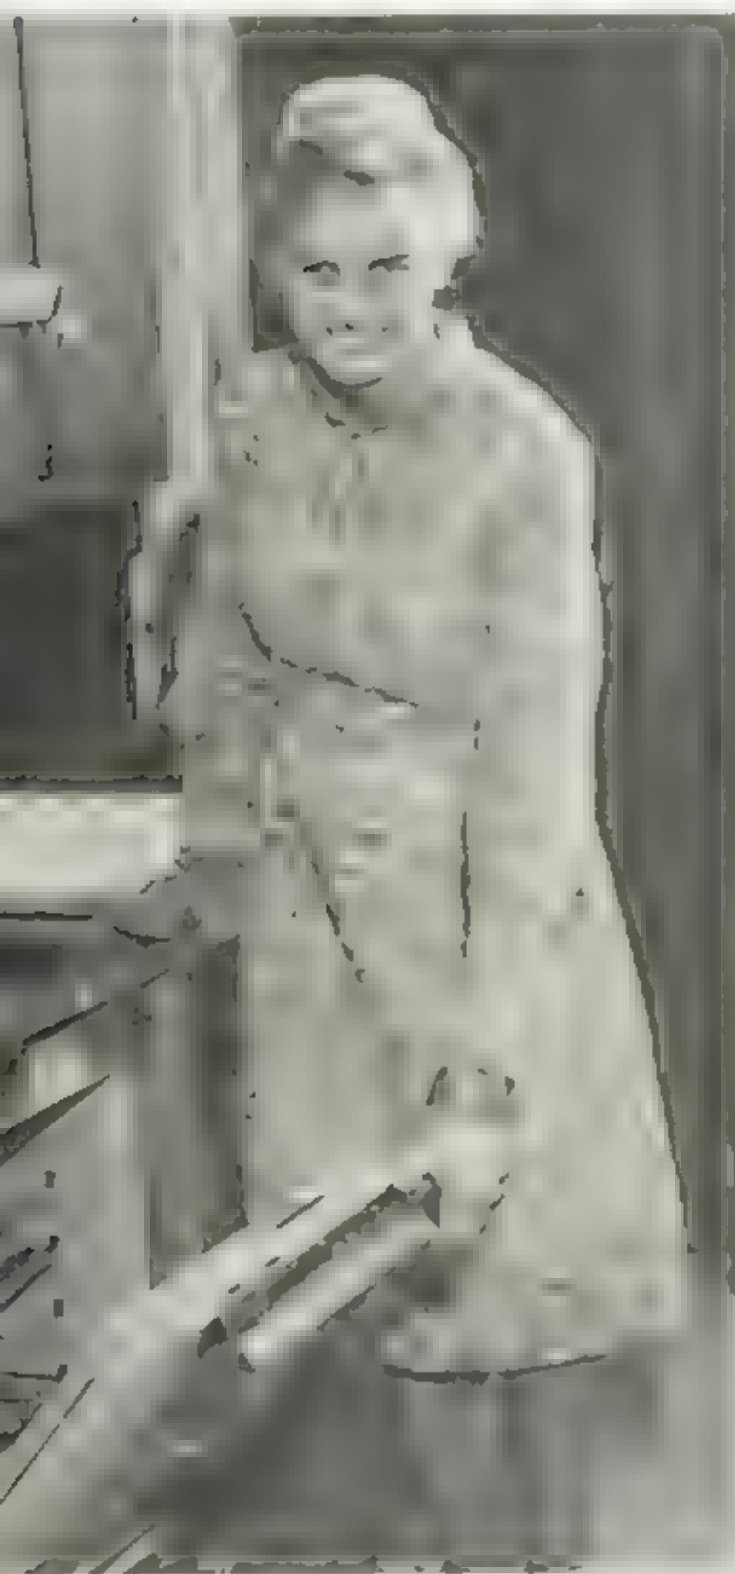

Christine Landis, B.S., Home Economics

Where was once gray space, there now exists an up-to-date ~~adequate~~ home-ec department. Ahh, say it again. Where once was

Arnold Moshier, B.S., Music

Music is the universal language and love is the key. You say those kids out there are called Moshier's mugwamps.

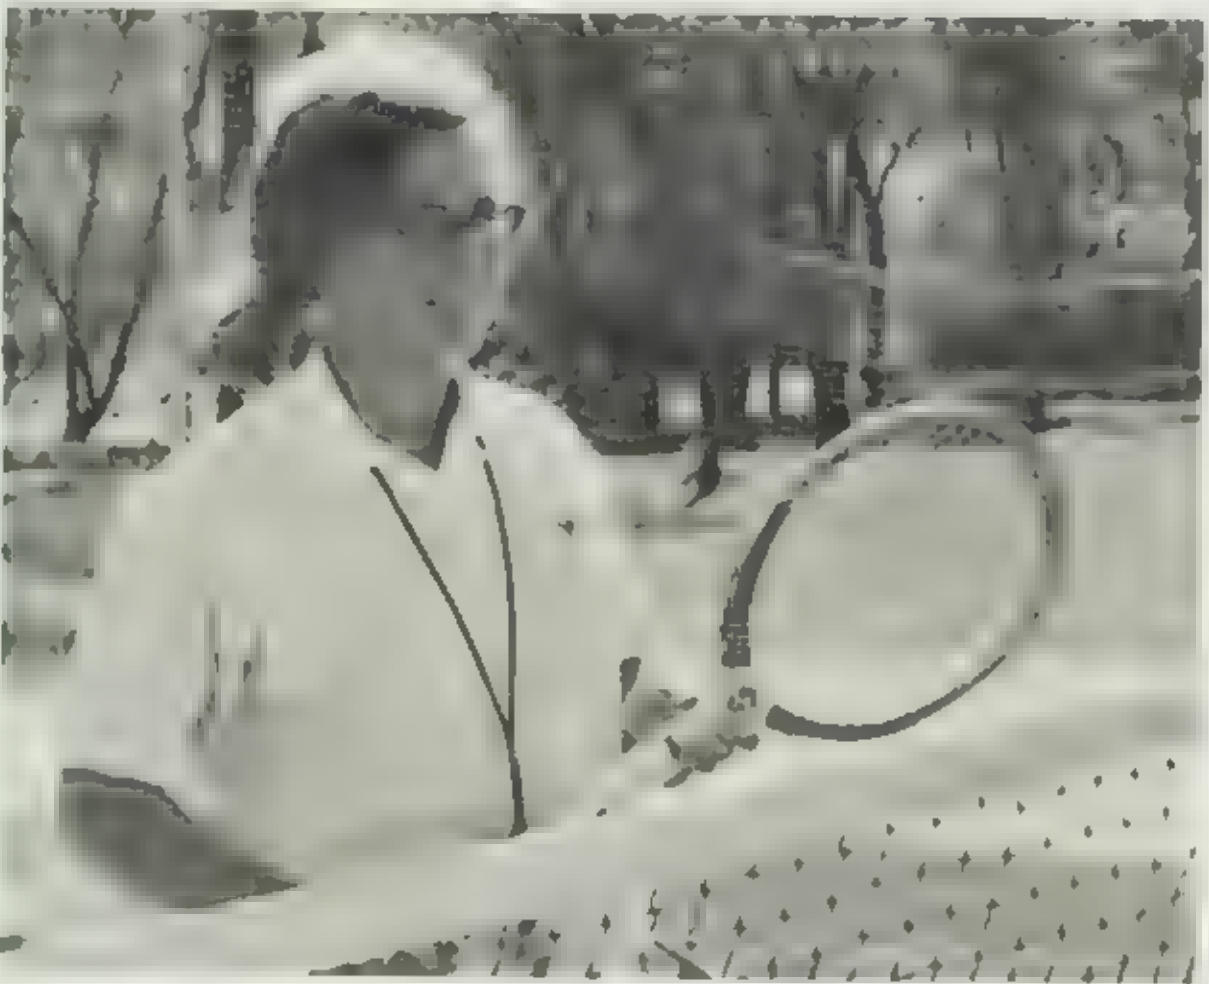

Elton Moshier, M.S., Social Science

Now as you juveniles go on to study your fellow delinquents, just remember . . .

Sue Rohrer, B.S., Phys. Ed.

The object of the game is to keep the tennis balls on the court, girls, and out of the sewer ditches

Vernon Rice, B.A., Phys. Ed., Health

Drugs are addictive, smoking is harmful to your health, alcohol . . . Come on you guys, listen up

Glen Seil, B.S., Bible

It's great to be alive! Let's sing a song

Donald Sensenig, M.A., Bible, Social Studies

Living in Asia was so much easier than trying to teach about it

Kenneth Shearer, M.S., Mathematics

Now the moral of the story is . . . maybe you weren't aware that mathematics has morals

Jane Short, B.A., Art, Math

Draw how you feel. Just call me Ms. Short, and don't worry about my marital status, thank you

Louise Showalter, B.S., Spanish

You're blushing, Miss Showalter

Clyde Stoner, M.Ed., Business Education

Managing school finances was hard, sure, but managing students is, ahem

Richard Thomas, B.S., Bible, Agriculture
 Now, if anybody disagrees with me please speak up, nobody.

John Weber, A.S., Driver, Jr., New Studies
 And, Teddy Roosevelt went to Cuba with twelve pairs of spectacles.
 Now, little Dick was a good boy but he drank too much alcohol and caused a death.

Diane Wenger, B.A., New Studies
 The map of geography of Asia is very complicated, please get it right in the geography class, looking for the right way.

Edna Wenger, M.A., Latin, English

The question is really very simple. I know you can do it. Er-um-ah, no, that's not quite right.

Larry L. Wenger, M.A., Science

We'll try some new concepts today. They're really quite easy (Physics easy?) Now at this stage of the game.

Floyd Zook, M.Ed., Science

OK, who turned on the gas? Yes, I know you found the silver nitrate. Your speckled face told me.

Freshmen

Dear typist,

I kind of felt sorry for the freshmen. Ever since the idea of a yearbook was conceived they've been getting write-ups like

"We found high school very different but soon adjusted"

or

"Good things come in small packages"

or

"We came to school the first day excited and a little scared"

I'll never forget the juvenile paragraph they had in when I was a freshman — well, never mind. Anyway, this year I decided to get some direct quotes from the freshmen themselves about their class. Title it

FRESHMEN OF AMERICA, HEARKIN'

"We got lots of possibilities."

"We're always getting stamped on."

"We have a crummy gym."

"They're the neatest bunch of kids that ever went to this school. I know 'cause I'm one of 'em."

Dear Typist,

The Sophomore story is another sorry one I really feel for all the former copy editors who struggled, scratched, and sweated trying to say something outstanding and typical about them. They hadn't "made it" like the seniors, weren't preparing for "seniorship" like the juniors or "learning to adjust" like the freshmen. They've been basically characterized as carefree and inbetween. I asked them if they think these words describe their case to title their reaction.

"MEDIOCRACY BE HANGED"

"Carefree' The amount of tears I put into that algebra book amounts to a bucket full."

"The best part of a sandwich is in the middle."

"I think the Sophomore class has a lot of — well — Class!"

"What's mediocre about a wise fool?"

Juniors

Dear typist,

Juniors in the past have really had their identity squashed. We haven't been content to let them be juniors but are always pushing them as potential seniors. We like to think we see the beginnings of maturity and responsibility in them

"THE JUNIOR IS DYING TO BECOME A SENIOR — FACT OR FALACY?"

"You bet ya I can't wait"

"I'm very glad I'm a junior, but I wish I was a senior"

"The junior class is the best — but I can't wait til we're seniors"

"Dying! I'm living to become a senior!"

(WELL, YOU CAN'T WIN 'EM ALL MY APOLOGIES, JUNIORS, I MIS JUDGED YOU. THE JUNIOR IS DYING TO BECOME A SENIOR — FACT)

Seniors

Dear typist,

Yes, it is a known fact that seniors have finally attained some wisdom, and at their fingertips lie vast horizons of opportunities, a new world. This theory I will not try to disprove or liberate. Instead, in the next few pages, the senior class will share with the world some ideas and values they have found to be true and noteworthy. Title this:

Strength for Today from the Past

Hesston strives to be a Christian place. It is also Mennonite, bringing to bear the traditions and values of both ideas. Hesston College is sixty years old. Yet the structure stands tall and intact as we continue to build on the strongest of foundations.

For "No other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ." 1 Cor. 3:11

Thank you, teachers, for enduring our interruptions

Thank you, students, for letting us butt in lunch lines.

Thank you, God, for giving us Miss Gehman.
